cessantly. Smoke from gunpowder mingled with that from the burning buildings. The vicious spit of the machine gun punctuated the crackling of the flames.
 When the fired buildings had almost been reduced to ruins, the strikers, at about 10 o'clock, attacked their fire and vanished into the hills in the direction of Trinidad.

During the hottest of the fighting three Greek strikers were seen to plunge down the hillside. The body of one of them was in plain sight at noon, bound against a pine tree.

A body of newspaper men in an automobile, carrying a white flag, entered the camp shortly before noon. They were the first persons from the outside to reach the place, and received the first detailed account of the battle. When the newspaper car drove into the camp, past the still blazing tipples, the occupants were greeted by the defenders, who swarmed from the refuge and surrounded the machine.

Dr. W. P. Woods, the company physician, was caring for the wounded.

Superintendent Nichols, awaiting another attack, had his small force of defenders on guard. Postmaster K. E. Cowdrey was examining the ruins of the mine office, in which the mail, records and stamps had all been burned.

The superintendent declared that his men had given a good account of themselves. "The Japanese fought like tigers," he declared, "except for the gallantry of my men, the mine would have been captured. We were determined to fire until every man was dead or our ammunition was exhausted. I do not know how many strikers we killed, but we saw three Greeks tumble down the hill."

"I asked aid from the militia, but they did not come last night, and have not appeared yet."

As the superintendent gave his account of the battle, the women and children, most of whom had ventured from their quarters in the abandoned tunnel, crowded about the automobile, pale faced and trembling. The body of S. A. Newman, with a gaping wound in the head, lay on the tramway track. The other bodies were near the upper end of the camp. It was near this point, on a hill a little above the mine, that the body of the slain striker was seen.

Jack Smith, one of the dead guards, leaves a wife and six children.

The arrival of newspaper men gave the defenders of the camp their first opportunity to communicate with the outside world. Postmaster Cowdrey continued in an Associated Press reporter messages to the post office inspectors in Denver and Washington, notifying them of the destruction of the post.

Not a shot was fired from the hills as the newspaper men drove up the canyon road. The strikers had completely vanished. Earlier advice had indicated that they were headed toward Tabasco and Herwind, important camps of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. The Forbes defenders, however, believed the assailants had gone in the direction of Trinidad.

PRESIDENT CALLS MEN TO TRY MEDIATION
 Washington, April 29.—President Wilson has asked the president of the Kentucky Mine Operators' association and the Alabama Mine Operators' organization to come to Washington immediately for a conference with the view to further attempt at mediation of the Colorado mine strike.

It was reported that sitting on a request of Secretary Wilson of the department of labor, these two men representing the owners and the companies of coal mine interests already were on the way to Washington and that they probably would meet a third party and go to the scene of the disorder in Colorado.

The Italian ambassador asked this morning on the secretary of state to ask for protection for the Italians in strike riots in Colorado. The alleged number of Italian children was the immediate cause of the request for the assurance of further protection.

ONE MILITIAMAN WOUNDED AT WALSENBURG TODAY
 Denver, April 29.—Advice received at the governor's office at 1 o'clock today that a sharp engagement between strikers and mine guards and militia was in progress near Walsenburg. One militiaman, Private O. L. Wilmoth, was known to have been wounded.

At 2 o'clock Sheriff Jefferson Farr reported that he had definite knowledge of the wounding of only one man in today's fighting here.

SHARP FIGHT THIS MORNING NEAR THE WALSEN MINE
 Walsenburg, Colo., April 29.—A sharp engagement occurred between strikers and militia north of town shortly before midday in which Private O. L. Wilmoth was wounded in the leg. No other casualties were reported. Additional troops were sent to the scene.

The location of this engagement was on the opposite side of the town from the Walsen mine, where desultory firing continued during most of the night.

"GIVE 'EM HELL" BROWN ADMITS WAR PARTY OUT
 Trinidad, Colo., April 29.—"General" ("Give 'em Hell") Brown in command of the strikers' military camp at San Rafael, admitted at 1:15 o'clock today that a body of his troops had left the camp last night and had just returned.

He would not give the number in the party.

Reports to the office of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company were that 130 or more strikers, all armed and some of them carrying two rifles, passed through the northern limits of Trinidad and entered the strikers' camp shortly before noon.

CHARGE MILITIA SOAKED TENT COLONY WITH OIL
 Trinidad, Colo., April 29.—That after the Ludlow tent colony had been almost entirely destroyed by fire on Monday night, militiamen visited the scene early Tuesday morning, soaked the remaining tents with kerosene and set them on fire as a portion of the accusations contained in the testimony before the coroner's jury this morning by Dr. A. Harvey of Aguilar, a physician for the United Mine Workers of America.

Dr. Harvey testified that he witnessed the battle that raged all day but was not there when the battle started. His evidence threw no light upon the original cause of the fire that destroyed the tent colony Monday night.

Guards fired upon him when he was carrying a flag of truce Harvey testified. He gave a graphic description of the battle and describing the fire said that it started about 7:29 in the evening in the center of the tents, that a few tents were burned and the fire apparently died out and that later flames were again noticed and this time the long row of tents were destroyed. But three or four remained, next morning, where, according to the witnesses, were seen to pour something he thought was oil on the canvas and set them afire.

The inquest halted at noon today and the members of the coroner's jury left for Ludlow to visit the scene of the fire and battle and the inquiry will be continued tomorrow morning.

SPECIAL CARRIES REGULARS INTO THE WAR ZONE
 Pueblo, Colo., April 29.—A special train over the Denver & Rio Grande railroad reached here at 10:25 this morning, bearing troops E and H, United States cavalry, from Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, to the Canon City district of the coal strike zone.

The train left here for Canon City at 10:35. The troops left their horses behind and will do duty on foot. They are in command of Captain Lee J. Parker.

Arrived at Canon City, the troops will receive additional instructions and will immediately be scattered to various points where fighting is now or has recently been in progress.

Attached to the train was a box car loaded with mules, ammunition and supply wagons.

The troops are due to arrive in Canon City at 12:30 this afternoon.

Steamer Benjamin Noble With Crew of Twenty Men Goin' Down; Life Savers Unable to Work.

FEARS FELT FOR THE SAFETY OF FIVE SHIPS

Duluth Reports Five Big Lake Steamers Twenty-four Hours Overdue and Disaster Is Feared.

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.)

Duluth, Minn., April 29.—The steamer Benjamin Noble is lost off Duluth and twenty men are dead. Wreckage was found on Park Point. Lifesavers were unable to launch a boat because of the high seas. Not a man reached shore, so far as known.

Great anxiety is felt in Duluth for five vessels headed for this port. All of them were overdue yesterday. These are the William H. Truesdale, Willis King, F. T. Hettelinger, Sheldon Parks and David Z. Norton. No word has been received of these vessels, although diligent search by wireless has been made throughout last night and this morning.

This afternoon the tug captains, looking for the wreck, located the cabin of the Noble on a sand reef near Minnesota Point. They assert that this makes it certain that the crew was lost. No bodies have come ashore.

second squadron of the Fifth United States cavalry, ordered to the Colorado strike zone, entrained at Fort Leavenworth for Trinidad at 2 o'clock this morning. The troops, 200 strong, under command of Captain C. C. Smith, traveled without mounts. The squadron should arrive in Trinidad early tomorrow morning.

Criticizes the Withdrawal at Tampico

Senator Fall Charges that Our Battleships Were 9 Miles Away While Foreigners Cared for Citizens.

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.)

Washington, April 29.—Criticism of the navy department's withdrawal of the warships from Tampico was voiced in the senate today. Senator Fall of New Mexico presented telegrams from refugees at Jalisco describing conditions at Tampico. An effort by Senators Reed and Gore to prevent the reading of the telegrams failed.

The communications stated the American vice consul at Tampico narrowly escaped lynching, and declared the state department was withholding information as to the situation there. The secretary of the navy was vigorously criticized.

"Do I understand," asked Senator Brandegee, "that American citizens were forced to take refuge on British and French warships while our vessels were nine miles away?"

"Yes," replied Senator Fall, "our vessels were riding at anchor nine miles away while British and German ships were protecting our citizens."

REHEARING ON THE APPEAL IN CASES AGAINST DYNAMITERS

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.)

Chicago, April 29.—The United States court of appeals today granted the petition of the government for a rehearing of the appeals of Olaf A. Tveitmo, Richard H. Houlahan and William Bernhardt, labor leaders convicted in the dynamite conspiracy trial in Indianapolis and granted a new trial by the court of appeals.

The court also directed that arguments on the petition for a rehearing be set for May 12 and that all the defendants in the dynamite case appear in court Monday.

Indiana Starts Building.
 San Francisco, April 29.—Indiana's fair commissioners broke ground today for the Hoosier state's pavilion, which will shelter a $50,000 exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915. The building itself will cost $75,000, the money to build it having been raised by popular subscription after the legislature had made an appropriation for an exhibit.

Diggs on Trial Again.
 San Francisco, April 29.—Maury I. Diggs, former state architect, was placed on trial here today on a charge of embezzlement. With two other men Diggs is accused of having attacked Miss Ida Peary and New Year's eve. Diggs recently was convicted with Drew Calhoun of a violation of the Mann white slave act.

Tolls Repeal Is Reported to Senate

Measure Goes from Committee with Simmons Amendment and Without Recommendation.

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.)

Washington, April 29.—The house bill to repeal the toll exemption for American ships passing through the Panama canal, with the amendment proposed by Senator Simmons declaring that by repealing existing no sovereign rights over the canal, was reported to the senate today without recommendation by the committee on inter-oceanic canals.

The vote on the motion to report with the Simmons amendment was made by Senator Thomas and was carried 5 to 6. A motion by Senator Bratton to report the house bill adversely was lost, 8 to 5.

The substitute proposed by Senator Walsh, allowing the question to be decided by the United States supreme court was defeated 5 to 5.

FOUR BURNED TO DEATH IN EARLY MORNING FIRE IN PORTLAND

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.)

Portland, Ore., April 29.—Four bodies were recovered from the ruins of a block of old frame dwelling houses on the east side, which were burned early today. A number of persons are unaccounted for and further search, it is believed, will reveal other bodies. Several persons were injured, two seriously. Three houses were burned to death.

The fire started in the house of G. T. Smith, and the family narrowly escaped cremation. Tenants of other houses fled in their night clothes. Several were hurt jumping from windows.

Outbreak in San Domingo.
 Washington, April 29.—An attack by government forces on the town of Puerto Plata in the Dominican Republic was reported today by the state department. The government at Santo Domingo claims to be able to dominate the situation.

AMERICANS AGAIN WARNED TO STAY OUT OF MEXICO

Nogales, Ariz., April 29.—Renewed advice that Americans remain out of Mexico were sent to consular agents and others along the Arizona border today. The advice was called forth by reports circulated along the border that Secretary of State Bryan had agreed that Americans might safely return to points in the states of Sonora and Sinaloa.

Americans at Douglas, Nave and other border points appealed to Consul Frederick Simpich at Nogales to know whether reports that Secretary Bryan had conferred with constitutional agents in Washington and had agreed that Americans might return to points in the states of Sonora and Sinaloa.

It is reported the rebel chiefs are anxious that Americans return so that industries crippled by their departure might be resumed, but it is feared these chiefs might not be able to control the lawless element.

MEXICANS MOUNT THREE-FIELD FLEETS TO TWO

Calcutta, Cal., April 29.—Three field pieces, against the Americans' two, were mounted by the Mexican garrison at Mexico; last night, about three quarters of a mile from the fortification of the United States regulars, according to reports received today by the American commanders. It had been known that the Mexicans had constructed breastworks, but the fact that they also had field pieces had not been discovered.

Americans familiar with the military situation at Mexicali say the Mexican commander has carried out an extensive program of enlistment in Imperial valley on the American side of the line. Many Mexican laborers have gone to Mexicali as soldiers, strengthening the garrison there materially.

REFUGEES FROM CORDOBA TELL STORIES OF SUFFERING

Washington, April 29.—A late report from General Canada at Vera Cruz says the refugees arriving from Cordoba told pitiful tales of hardships inflicted on them during their imprisonment there. After their arrest they were herded together like cattle and marched through the public streets to a small and unsanitary jail. Meantime angry mobs on all sides threw decayed fruit, stones and other missiles at them and threatened their lives. On arriving at the jail they were crowded into small rooms, forty of the prisoners being in the same apartment.

EXODUS FROM TAMPICO PRACTICALLY AT AN END

Tampico, Mexico, April 27. (Via Vera Cruz, April 28.)—The American exodus from Tampico, which began Wednesday, April 22, virtually reached its end today with the departure for Vera Cruz of about sixty American refugees on board the tank steamer Canfield. The total number of refugees sent from here to American ports since the movement began is officially given at 2,270.

There are a number of Americans still in Tampico. These number a score or more. They have lived here for many years and are highly thought of by the Mexican population, among whom they have made many warm friends. They are today sheltered in the homes of Mexican friends living along the Panuco river, and are in little danger.

No credible reports have reached here of any damage to the oil wells.
